Hancock County Grand Jury Convened Monday: Investigate 14 Witnesses. Return Two True Bills

Below is the official report of the Hancock County Grand Jury, as filed with the Clerk of the Circuit Court this week:

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI
COUNTY OF HANCOCK

In the Circuit Court
September 1950 Term
Judge: T. Honorable L. C. Corban, Circuit Judge:

We, the Grand Jury, empaneled for the September 1950 Term of the Circuit Court of Hancock County, Mississippi, have concluded our labor and beg leave to make this our final report.

We have been in session 2 days, have examined 14 witnesses, investigated 4 cases, and have returned two true bills.

We have inspected the County Jail, and find it to be in a fair state of repair. The screens are in bad condition and should be replaced by new screens immediately, and we recommend that some disinfectants be used to destroy or control the odor in the jail.

We have inspected the County Court House, and find it to be well kept, and as far as we are able to ascertain from a casual inspection of the records of the various officers they appear to be well and accurately kept.

We find there is inadequate space for the storing and keeping of the records and other records necessary to be kept by the County Superintendent of Education's office, and we recommend that adequate shelves be provided for the keeping of the records and that the records be kept by the County Superintendent of Education.

CITY COUNCIL APPROVES HOUSING AUTHORITY APPLICATION FOR PRELIMINARY LOAN OF $40,000

The Commission Council voted to approve the application of the City Housing Administration for a preliminary loan in an amount not to exceed $40,000 to cover the costs of surveys and planning in connection with the development of not to exceed approximately 100 units of low-cost public housing in the City and declared its intention to enter hereafter into an agreement with the said Housing Authority for the local cooperation by the City in the provision of said low-cost public housing which may be required by the U. S. Public Housing Administration in accordance with the U. S. Public Housing Act of 1937, as amended.

This request by the local Authority must now be approved by the U. S. Public Housing Administration before further steps can be taken towards construction of the units.

The local Housing Authority appointed by the City some time ago consists of John Seaford, Chairman, Emile G. Pizar, Secretary, Wallace Bontemps, Ed Aronauis, Sr., and John Bell.

SURVEY FINDINGS OF TOWN STUDY PROJECT TO BE DISTRIBUTED TO PUBLIC

The League of Women Voters of Bay St. Louis met for its last study session on the evening of September 7th, at the home of Mrs. E. P. Kirkpatrick. An informative report on the recreational facilities of Bay St. Louis was given by Mrs. Sam Whitfield, and in the absence of Mrs. C. D. Blair, chairman of the committee on Public Utilities, the report on public utilities was read by Mrs. Mary Frances Seaford.

The town study project has been extremely interesting and informative. The members who attended the evening during the past two months feel that they have benefited immeasurably by this opportunity of learning the actual facts about the running of their municipality. The league is grateful to Mayor Carver, Mr. Glover and Mr. Ladner for the complete and courteous cooperation they gave during this survey.

For the benefit of league members and all others who are interested in good government, the findings of the survey will be printed in pamphlet form and distributed free of cost. If you would like a copy, just call 506, and one will be sent you on publication.

There will be a board meeting on Thursday at 2 p.m. in the new REA building, to plan for the state convention and for a membership meeting.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club To Sponsor Flower Show Arrangement And Judging School Nov. 2-3

TO LECTURE AT GARDEN CLUB'S JUDGING SCHOOL

Maud R. Jacobs, of Chicago and South Carrollton, Kentucky, is the author of "Gardening Made Easy" and is a frequent contributor to horticultural publications—she has an article on judging fall flowers in the September issue of Flower Grower.

Mrs. Jacobs was a pioneer in broadcasting garden talks and during the early years of radio was heard regularly over WLS, WJJD, and other Chicago stations. She has been well known as a speaker before garden clubs for over twenty-five years.

Mrs. Jacobs was a judge at all of the annual Chicago flower shows of the series that began in 1927 and that ended during the first three Chicago judging schools. Since then she has been on the programs of such schools in many states and has lectured at a regular number of judging and flower show schools than any other speaker in the country.

KEEP OUR CEMETERIES CLEAN THE YEAR ROUND

As far as we know or have been able to find out, the upkeep of Cedar Rest Cemetery is the obligation of the City of Bay St. Louis and they are paying or should be paying someone to keep it clean the year round. Judging from the condition of the cemetery at the present time it looks as if it had not been cleaned for several months and is really a disgrace to the community and an insult to the memory of those whose remains have been laid to rest in that Hallowed spot.

A cemetery is part of a community and should be provided care and upkeep the same as a park or playground might be kept up—even moreso, because more people than you may realize visit our cemeteries every day of the year, and if they are given the impression that the town does not keep clean the resting place of its departed loved ones they might get the same impression about the rest of the town and decide that they do not care to visit such a place. And we wouldn't blame them one bit.

It is true that each family should be forced to keep their family plot clean at their own expense, and if they fail to do so at least twice a year, then the City officials should have the plot cleaned and charge it on their tax account or bill them directly, whichever would be permissible. In this way we feel the cemetery could be made a place of beauty, rather than one of desecration to the memory of our departed brethren.

So, City Fathers let's get busy now and clean up this cemetery, especially since it is less than two months till All Saints Day, and once it is cleaned keep it that way all the time. It won't be hard to do if it is done regularly.

PROPAGANDA—OR ACTION!

Propaganda, as defined is "any organization or method for spreading a certain opinion or belief; the opinion or belief thus spread." By this token, we side 100 percent with a remark passed sometime ago by a little man in a loud shirt, that our Marines have a propaganda machine... but only that far do we go along with that guy's belief. The Marines ARE an organization; they DO have a method for spreading certain opinions or beliefs (ask any Jap from Okinawa, Iwo Jima, Tarawa, etc. about this method). The organization is the tightest bunch of bucks ever to hit the bloody beaches; the opinions and beliefs that they spread are the ideas of freedom, the belief in their country and the opinion that they can lick any aggressor or son-of-a-Red in sight; and their method for spreading these opinions is by sheer force, brute strength, and steel nerves in the face of seemingly hopeless odds and under the drawback of Commanders-in-Chief who refuse to cast an eye of approval (on their propaganda spreading) and a hand of guidance in their direction. They paint their own sign posts to direct them and all free peoples—and without any questionable assistance of a whitewashed bigmouth. (If the shoe fits—put it on, Cinderella).

Our unfortunate experience in Korea has led to a greater appreciation of the Marine Corps, (by most anyhow) a special branch of the service, fully equipped and especially designed for quick and immediate action in any emergency.

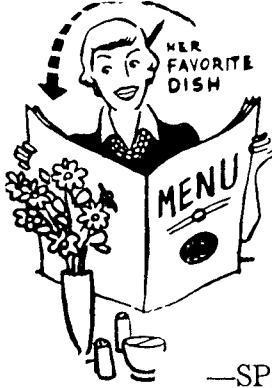

Propaganda is universal and spread by any bigmouth; Action is a little harder to find and faced by only a few tightlipped Soldiers, Sailors, Air Men—And Marines. ... just an afterthought—wonder if I'll have to apologize to anyone for this???

IMPRESSIVE VOW CEREMONIES AT SAINT AUGUSTINE'S SEMINARY

SIX LOUISIANIANS IN IMPRESSIVE VOW CEREMONIES TWO MAKE FINAL PROFESSION

Bay St. Louis, La. (Special Eagle Staff Report)—Six Louisiana young men in formal robes, in the presence of the Very Reverend William Baker, SVD, provincial superior of the South Eastern Province of the Society of the Divine Word, made their final profession of faith at the Saint Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, La., on September 13, 1950.

The ceremony took place on the eve of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the foundation of the Society of the Divine Word and the fifty-fifth anniversary of its establishment in the United States. Since its foundation in 1875 at Steyl, Holland on the River Meuse by the venerable Servant of God, Arnold Jansen, the Society has spread over the entire world and now numbers among its members men of all the main languages and racial groups. Besides conducting many seminaries, schools and parishes in Europe and the Americas it has a number of establishments in China, India, Japan, the Philippine Islands, New Guinea and Indonesia. This

Other speakers on the program included Dr. J. H. Touchstone, Chicago, Ill., representing the board of lay activities; Prof. Darrell, returned missionary from Africa; Rev. N. P. Perry, Baton Rouge, executive secretary of Christian Education of the Louisiana annual conference; and Rev. Allen Mayes, Beaumont, Tex., missionary secretary of the Texas conference. Friday's program was featured by reports of the district superintendents.

Bishop Robert N. Brooks, resident bishop of the New Orleans area, said there are 515 pastors serving 268 congregations with a total membership of 110,000 in the New Orleans area.

He said two assembly buildings will be dedicated Sunday. They are the Robert E. Jones chapel, erected at the Robert E. Jones hall, which cost $80,000, and the new chapel, which cost $27,500.

Dedication sermon will be delivered by Bishop W. E. Bowen of the Atlantic coast area Methodist church. Bishop Brooks was re-elected president of the area council. Other officers are Dr. C. H. Debra Gulfport, secretary; E. D. Badger, New Orleans, treasurer; and W. T. Handy, New Orleans, reporter.

Dr. Matthew Davage, head of the Methodist department of higher education for Negroes in Nashville, Tenn., said that despite large sums appropriated by local and state boards of education, only a little more than half of the 100,000 Methodist Negroes are in state-supported schools. Others, he said, are in private and church-related colleges.

METHODISTS HEAR ADVOCATE EDITOR

110,000 Negro Methodists in New Orleans Area

Waveland, Miss.—Prince A. Taylor, Jr., New Orleans, editor of the Central Urban Area Council of the Methodist Christian Advocate, addressed the New Orleans (Central Jurisdiction) meeting of the Gulfside Assembly on "The Value of Religious Journalism."

The twofold function of the church is first to help individuals to develop human personality and grow in Christ-likeness and, second, to help in a co-operative way to create a society in which Christian personality can develop.

Taylor said Bishop Robert E. Jones, founder, in discussing "The Past, Present and Future of Gulfside Assembly," said it was started in 1922 with a small group of laymen and ministers who advanced $1000 as a deposit on the 300-acre plot. Subsequently, the full balance has been paid. Among the buildings on the campus now are the R. E. Jones hall, Brooks chapel, the school for Underprivileged Boys and a building known as The Inn.

Other speakers on the program included Dr. J. H. Touchstone, Chicago, Ill., representing the board of lay activities; Prof. Darrell, returned missionary from Africa; Rev. N. P. Atlanta Chosen as Site of Regional School Industrial College Armed Forces

Atlanta has been selected by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces as the scene of a regional school in economic mobilization for the industrial labor and education, as well as, certain senior reserve Army, Navy and Air Force officers to be conducted by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces. The course will be held during the period October 30 to November 10 at the Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia.

Three hundred prominent civilians and Army, Navy and Air Force reserve officers from throughout the Third Army area comprising Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, South Carolina and North Carolina will be invited to attend.

A similar course was conducted in Atlanta, in 1948.

Known officially as the Field Economic Mobilization Course, it will be presented by instructors from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces in cooperation with Third Army, Sixth Naval District, Fourteenth Air Force and Georgia Military District.

Brigadier General George H. Weems, Chief of the Georgia Military District, yesterday explained that instruction would consist of a condensed version of the full 10-month course given at the Industrial College in Washington, D. C.

"Instruction includes a broad presentation of the principles of economic mobilization from an education aspect," he said. "As the Industrial College is an education institution and is neither a planning nor an operations agency, it is impracticable to include information for individuals or industrial organizations as to the specific part they will play in any future mobilization. However, representatives of the National Security Resources Board and the Munitions Board take part in presenting the course lecturing on the activities of their respective board on the final day of the course."

A civilian selection committee has been appointed by General Weems to invite prominent leaders in the field of education, industry and labor to attend the course. Of the 300 men to attend, 130 will be civilians with the balance of the enrollment made up of reserve officers.

The civilians to attend will be selected by a committee of prominent civilians appointed by General Weems. He has also appointed an arrangements committee and a publicity committee.

The selection committee is headed by Jackson P. Dick, vice-pres. of the Georgia Primary Company. Others who have agreed to serve on the committee are: Hal S. Dumas, president of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co.; Erle Cocke, president of the Citizens and Southern National Bank; Colonel Blake R. Van Leer, president of the Georgia Institute of Technology; H. W. Bonduant, vice-president of Southern Railway System; O. M. Jackson, president of the Monitor Company of Georgia; Freeman Strickland, vice-president of the Trust Company of Georgia; L. B. Raisty, senior economist with the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta; and Harry C. Thorne, president of the First National Bank of Elberton.

The selection of Army, Air Force and Navy Reserve officers to attend the course will be based on applications submitted by the officers to their respective civilian component headquarters. In the case of Army officers this will be the military district of the state in which they reside. Navy officers, the Sixth Naval District, Charleston, S. C., and Air Force officers, Headquarters Fourteenth Air Force, Robins Air Force Base, Macon, Georgia.

RESERVISTS
In announcing its new call for individual enlisted reservists, the Army said the age limits will be 19 through 35, except for some specialists in the technical and administrative services. Priority will be determined by the number of dependents each has and the need for their military skills. Of the 62,000 enlisted reservists covered by a previously announced call, 32,000 have already received orders.

When you see a good looking young woman just remember that she knows it better than you do.

More than 150 college students enrolled in 23 Methodist institutions with budgets totaling $158,000. Now the number of institutions has been reduced through mergers to 12 with budgets totaling some $4 million, he added.

Standing on the main stem the other evening early in the night as time is reckoned... wondered why every thing was so quiet... Lo, everything was closed... no lights... no traffic... no business... you know, that's bad... no business, that is. What's wrong—where is everyone—where there's people, there's business... money being spent... guess nobodys got any money Saturday... the day in Waveland... as to who is going to be elected you take your choice, and you lay your bets... seems like Garfield has done a pretty good job... heard a man say one time that a change is always a good thing... can't figure that one out... if things are going nicely, why a change Andy Becker leaves soon for a return engagement with the Armed Forces... who am I going to get my stamps, etc. from now... also a lot of people are going to miss that big morning grin of Andy's. A salute to the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club... another one to John Bell... the folks that were a bit inclined to doubt Mr. Bell's determination... the success of this venture leaves no further room for that doubt... John Bell and those assisting have done much to make the Yacht Club known wherever yachtsmen gather... here's luck to them. Stanislaus will open the season by slugging it out with the Foley Alabama squad Sept. 16... on enemy territory... Benny Nobles' boys will take on De LaSalle High in the Stanislaus Stadium Friday night, September 22... lets all turn out and give them a hand... the first battle is one of the worst. Couldn't get out of my door for mosquitos... uptown... the fogging machine is giving the beach main stem a going over... what's the matter with the residential section, city papas. Circuit Court in session this week... Hear Ye, Hear Ye... the local bar-risters were well represented... even the photographer was there... took a picture or two... guess that's news too... if something doesn't happen around here... the only thing there will be to take a picture of will be where Bay St. Louis used to be... notice he was wearing a tie yesterday... the photog. I mean... didn't recognize him in a shirt and tie... tells me he has a coat too... No!...

How's about this weather we're having... makes you feel sorry for those folks in the City... they see it only as far as the top of the houses... another score in our favor... we see it all... hard to think there's a war going on with all that a war implies... there isn't much we can say to express our feelings to and about the lads that are over there in that war... doing the "what has to be done"... guess about all we can say is... Atlanta Chosen as Site of Regional School Industrial College Armed Forces

Atlanta has been selected by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces as the scene of a regional school in economic mobilization for the industrial labor and education, as well as, certain senior reserve Army, Navy and Air Force officers to be conducted by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces. The course will be held during the period October 30 to November 10 at the Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia.

Three hundred prominent civilians and Army, Navy and Air Force reserve officers from throughout the Third Army area comprising Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, South Carolina and North Carolina will be invited to attend.

A similar course was conducted in Atlanta, in 1948.

Known officially as the Field Economic Mobilization Course, it will be presented by instructors from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces in cooperation with Third Army, Sixth Naval District, Fourteenth Air Force and Georgia Military District.

Brigadier General George H. Weems, Chief of the Georgia Military District, yesterday explained that instruction would consist of a condensed version of the full 10-month course given at the Industrial College in Washington, D. C.

"Instruction includes a broad presentation of the principles of economic mobilization from an education aspect," he said. "As the Industrial College is an education institution and is neither a planning nor an operations agency, it is impracticable to include information for individuals or industrial organizations as to the specific part they will play in any future mobilization. However, representatives of the National Security Resources Board and the Munitions Board take part in presenting the course lecturing on the activities of their respective board on the final day of the course."

A civilian selection committee has been appointed by General Weems to invite prominent leaders in the field of education, industry and labor to attend the course. Of the 300 men to attend, 130 will be civilians with the balance of the enrollment made up of reserve officers.

The civilians to attend will be selected by a committee of prominent civilians appointed by General Weems. He has also appointed an arrangements committee and a publicity committee.

The selection committee is headed by Jackson P. Dick, vice-pres. of the Georgia Primary Company. Others who have agreed to serve on the committee are: Hal S. Dumas, president of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co.; Erle Cocke, president of the Citizens and Southern National Bank; Colonel Blake R. Van Leer, president of the Georgia Institute of Technology; H. W. Bonduant, vice-president of Southern Railway System; O. M. Jackson, president of the Monitor Company of Georgia; Freeman Strickland, vice-president of the Trust Company of Georgia; L. B. Raisty, senior economist with the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta; and Harry C. Thorne, president of the First National Bank of Elberton.

The selection of Army, Air Force and Navy Reserve officers to attend the course will be based on applications submitted by the officers to their respective civilian component headquarters. In the case of Army officers this will be the military district of the state in which they reside. Navy officers, the Sixth Naval District, Charleston, S. C., and Air Force officers, Headquarters Fourteenth Air Force, Robins Air Force Base, Macon, Georgia.

RESERVISTS
In announcing its new call for individual enlisted reservists, the Army said the age limits will be 19 through 35, except for some specialists in the technical and administrative services. Priority will be determined by the number of dependents each has and the need for their military skills. Of the 62,000 enlisted reservists covered by a previously announced call, 32,000 have already received orders.

When you see a good looking young woman just remember that she knows it better than you do.

More than 150 college students enrolled in 23 Methodist institutions with budgets totaling $158,000. Now the number of institutions has been reduced through mergers to 12 with budgets totaling some $4 million, he added.

Automatic In Range

Spareribs, Chinese Style

- 3 lbs. spareribs
- 2 tbsp. shortening
- 3 tbsp. brown sugar
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 1/2 tbsp. cornstarch
- 1/3 cup vinegar
- 1/3 cup water
- 3/4 cup pineapple juice
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 green pepper, chopped

Cut spareribs into serving pieces. (If you like the pieces fairly short, ask the butcher to crack the bones for you.) Simmer ribs in salted water (1 1/2 tsp. to each quart of water) until almost tender. (Allow a little over an hour.) Drain thoroughly. Heat shortening in a large skillet and brown ribs on both sides.

Mix brown sugar, salt and cornstarch in a saucepan. Stir in vinegar, water and pineapple juice; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add onion and green pepper and simmer 5 minutes. Pour this sauce over browned spareribs and cook over low flame for about 15 minutes or until part of sauce has been absorbed by the ribs. Serve with steamed rice.

NEW PERSONNEL OF MISS. FOREST SERVICE GET WEEK TRAINING

One week's intensive training in fire control for new personnel of the Mississippi Forest Service will be held Sept. 18-22 at Shelby State Park near Hattiesburg it is announced by J. F. Smith, chief of Fire Control division of the service. Mr. Smith will serve as director of the school.

Registration and study will begin Monday morning and work will come to a close Friday afternoon. While the school is primarily for a study of fire control methods, Mr. Smith explains that time will be allotted during the week to the Forest Management and Information and Education divisions of the department to explain their programs to the new rangers.

Mr. Smith explains that due to the nearness of the fire season and the need of knowledge by the new men on the use of mechanized equipment it is deemed important that they become thoroughly familiar with situations that may confront them.

Mr. Smith's staff instructors for the course will include men from the various district offices.

AIR AMBULANCES

"Flying ambulances" are expected to transport virtually all Korean casualties to this country, and hospital ships will not be generally used, according to the Defense Department. This will mean our wounded men will be flown back from Japan in five days at the most, compared to 28 days by ship.

BAY ST. LOUIS GETS A NEW RESIDENT

George L. Suzanneau, District Supervisor for the Bureau of the Census wrote to Mayor Carver and other governing officials of the City "now that I am once more a member of that small group of people who are fortunate enough to live in Bay St. Louis, I want you to know that I am there, and on hand to do what I can to contribute to its wellbeing and development. I should like to become as active in its affairs as my ability will afford."

Mr. Suzanneau with his wife and five children has recently moved here from New Orleans and lives at the family home with his father at 209 Keller Avenue.

A WARNING TO BICYCLISTS

Danger lurks on the streets at night to bicyclists riding without lights. He must think because he can see the headlights of automobiles that he is immune to accidents, but the motorists are upon him before he can see him. Why do parents let children ride at night without lights? And even grown people go about without a light on their bicycles.

Too soon it may happen that a motorist driving along at night and suddenly seeing a bicycle in front of him, may be given such a start of fright that his hand will swerve the wheel and run down the bicyclist. So take heed, cyclists, and be not negligent. Put lights on the back and the front of your bicycle.

PEARL RIVER COLLEGE TO MAKE 1950 GRID DEBUT TONIGHT

Poplarville. With their opening struggle against the powerful Holmes Junior College Bulldogs scheduled for tonight (Thursday) almost every position on the state champion Pearl River College football eleven is wide open, according to Head Coach T. D. Holden.

The 1950 Wildcats will have to begin their defense of the state title with virtually untied men in at least eight of the 11 posts. Of the 23 men who played in the 1949 Memorial Bowl game in Jackson, only three have returned.

For the first game the coaches are still sifting through the few veterans and the green newcomers trying to find a unit of 11 men who can work together smoothly.

One bright spot for the coaches is the return of letterman Blue Morrow. Morrow, a promising guard, severely injured one of his hands in a logging accident during the summer, and it was feared that he would be lost for the season.

The roster of the 1950 Wildcats is as follows:

Ends—Jack Morris, Wayne Hodges, Cecil Faulkner, Bob Douglas, Hillman Breefield, Harry Lowe, John Hathorn.

Tackles—Ed Petroski, Malcolm Bailey, Ellard Brantly, Don Haas, Herbert Ray Nobles.

Guards—Tiny Renaker, Tommy Davis, E. N. Burger, Vernon Forayte, Buck McCrory, Fred Garrett, Don Thomas, Blue Morrow.

Centers—A. J. Bruno, Jack Love, Billy Rawls, Billy Evans.

GOVERNOR WRIGHT TO BE PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT SAFETY CONFERENCE

Jackson—Gov. Fielding L. Wright will speak to both the Second Annual when the two important meetings are Mississippi Safety Conference and the Mississippi Civilian Defense Conference held in Jackson at the Woolfolk State Office Building on Tuesday, Sept. 19.

Several hundred Mississippi officials and citizens are expected to attend the safety session beginning at nine thirty in the morning and the defense meeting which convenes at one thirty in the afternoon. Both meetings were called by the Governor.

Features of the safety meeting will include the launching of a comprehensive action plan throughout the state aimed at reducing the highway accident toll, a presentation by James D. Hill of the National Safety Council, and a report by A. S. Windham, executive director of the Mississippi Safety Council which is sponsoring the safety meeting with Governor Wright.

In addition to the Governor's talk, civilian defense conferences will hear an outline of Mississippi's civilian defense plan, including discussions on the part to be played in civil defense by the Mississippi State Guard and the Civil Air Patrol.

Being especially urged to attend the meeting are civil defense chairman and council members, Mississippi Safety Council members, judges, mayors, newspaper editors, sheriffs, radio station managers, superintendents of education, chambery clerks, presidents of boards of supervisors, justices of the peace, and heads of state-wide organizations.

Intelligence will be more prevalent when a loud voice is not synonymous with anything except a loud voice.

REMEMBER WHEN

...you cooled watermelons under the bed

Remember the days before mechanical refrigeration? When perishables "perished" and everything tasted like onions? It's hard to remember those days when you see the smart new gas refrigerators. Natural gas long ago solved your heating problems, and can solve your cooling

The natural gas industry is one of the fastest growing industries in the nation—and it's helping to bring increasing prosperity to the residents of this gas-producing, gas-consuming area we call the Gulf South. Privately financed and managed, the natural gas companies are placing millions of dollars in the channels of trade—helping to make business better for everybody.

problems as well. It's the wonder fuel of the Gulf South, helping you with all the big jobs in the home.

See the modern GAS refrigerators today—wherever gas appliances are sold. You will be thrilled by their smart appearance, pleased with their silent mechanism and amazed at the economy of their operation. Another important point to remember when you buy—there are no moving parts to wear out in the freezing system of your GAS refrigerator.

It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion, it is easy in solitude to live after our own, but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness
the serenity of solitude. Emerson

Speak not at all in any wise, till you have somewhat to speak, care not for the reward of your speaking, but simply and with undivided mind for the truth of your speaking. Carlyle

"Thy purpose firm is equal to the deed
Who does the best his circumstances
allow Does well, acts nobly, angels could do no more." Young

It is very encouraging to know that there has never been but one perfect man in this world.

An English woman of superior in-tellectuality has said "I have never yet come across a person really far above the average, either mentally or morally. Who ever became too big for his boots or his Bible."

Another great woman discoverer has said "One never goes up until one has gone down in his own opinion."

I have drawn very heavily on some of our great philosophers, historians, and theologians this morning—but, who could express more specifically what I feel?

Baklava season is approaching and everyone's thoughts will be turning to good things to eat for the family. If you are rushed one day and do not have time to spare try this quick and easy
topping for your cake:

Whip 1/2 cup of heavy cream until stiff. Then add a tbs. of chocolate syrup. That's all. If you are the kind of baker I am, try some of the com-mercially baked cake spread with this frosting. I tried it on orange chiffon and it was very good.

Did you know that if you use strained
honey to sweeten whipped cream that it will stay firm all day and in will have a delicately different flavor?

Try old-fashioned brown sugar instead of white sugar in your favorite muffin
recipe for a delightful change.

The musical season is approaching and I intend to make a concerted (I am not punning when I use the word "concerted") effort to hear some of the better performances. Dimitri Metropoulos is my favorite conductor. He is fascinating in his feline-like grace.

Throughout the years his shoulders have become powerfully developed. He greets one with the continental gesture of bowing from the waist, which I think most American women find very unusual and flattering! He then extends a hand which is at once soft, slim and like a vise.

Ludwig Van Beethoven is another pet of mine. His history and background make very interesting reading. His complex and eccentric nature afford a captivating study in factious idiosyncrasies. He was brought up by a father who was a little too closely associated with the bottle and who was unrelenting in his demands on the child, and a mother who was gentle, long suffering and anxious. Is it any wonder the boy turned out to have two separate natures or two different sets of characteristics?

Education, as far as Johann, the father was concerned was secondary.
That the boy should be a musician was an obsession with the parent. And a great musician he became. At his first triumphant men and women shouted and pounded on the floor with approval but Ludwig had to be turned to face the audience in order to know that he was a smashing success for he was almost totally deaf. But the time came when he was spoiled and became officious and arrogant. It is said he attended a dinner at the magnificent mansion of a friend. During the meal it was noticed by the shocked and repulsed guests that his manners were excessive and inexcusable. Not on this occasion he exclaimed: "But I am Beethoven," when cautioned.

He was the possessor of a terrible temper having been known to stalk
out of a drawing room if another musician's name was mentioned and having been seen to throw a plate at an unexpecting waiter. After such outbursts he would go to a piano and bare his soul. His love affairs were, for the most part, trifling.

His character changed somewhat however when he realized that he would never hear again. His attitude towards those of us, at least, became tolerable.

It is claimed that the greatest tragedy was not his physical affliction, but rather the lack of any outlet for his affections. He never really was loved by any woman except his mother.

His "Fifth" and "Seventh" Symphonies are superb as is his monodramatic and passionate "Missa Solemnis."
Like many great men he died unhappy.

Forty-four per cent of the Federal employees lived in the Washington area last June, a total of 213,750.
were women, according to a Civil Service Commission report.

The Story of "Bob and Sally"

At Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre
September 20th & 21st

"Bob and Sally" is the new release of Social Guidance Enterprises, these same company which accomplished an unprecedented success in the educational motion picture field with "Mom and Dad." Like the former "Bob and Sally" treats emotional and health problems tastefully and intelligently.
The script is extremely well written;
J. G. Sanford's production is smooth and professional, Earle Kenton's direction is thoughtful and subtly emphatic.

The story of Bob and Sally covers several major problems of the family relationship; the unwillingness of the parents to deal with their children's ignorance; the problems of a frigid wife, and the tragedy of a young romance that ends in abortion. The family doctor is the character who weaves
the drama together and in addition, narrative is expertly employed. The film allows for a break during which a physician speaks. Concluding are several short subjects on treating of venereal diseases.

The performances are uniformly good,
especially those of the youngsters by Gloria Marlen and Ralph Hodges, Rick
Vallin, Mildred Coles, Charles Quigley,
Mary Bear, and Charles Evans round out the fine cast.

The technical values are outstanding,
particularly the camera work of Ellis
Carter, the musical score of Milton
Rosen, and the deft editing by Paul Landres.

EMPLOYMENT

The National employment figure for July stood at 61,214,000, or slightly less than June, but the total was still close to the record high of 61,600,000.
Unemployment was down to 3,213,000
compared with 3,384,000 in June.

ELECTRIC POWER.

While the cost of living for the average household has risen nearly sixty-seven per cent in the last ten years
the cost of electricity has dropped five to ten per cent in the same period,
according to the Federal Power Commission.

An intelligent individual visualizes an issue without waiting for it to be drama-tized by personal clashes.

FOREST PRODUCTS ONE

OF MISSISSIPPI'S CHIEF
SOURCES OF INCOME
Timber products are one of the chief sources of income to Mississippians. About one-fifth of the timber cut in the form of fuel wood, fence posts, and other domestic items. The rest of the timber cut is principally for commercial use and goes to concentration points and plants.

Most of the timber processed or consumed within the state is obtained locally. Sawmills get 74 percent of their logs, cooperage plants get 61 percent of their timber, and veneer plants get 44 percent of their logs from local counties. But a substantial volume of timber is hauled longer distances to plants, particularly pulpwood. Pulp mills draw 45 percent of their wood from beyond a radius of 50 miles.

The above facts are presented by Area Ranger C. L. Leonard, of the Mississippi Forest Service in summarizing the recent release of the Southern Forest Experiment Station on the subject
"Mississippi's Forest Industry."

In discussing this report Ranger Leonard pointed to the conclusions reached in the study:

"Mississippi's forest-products industries are based on a declining resource,
and since the beginning of World War II, there has been no falling off in total raw timber output. The volume of total timber cut has been sustained primarily by an increase in pulpwood
production and by industry adjustments
in the utilization of other products.
One important adjustment has been a gradual shift in principally lumber and some pulpwood production from softwood species to the more plentiful hardwoods."

"In view of the changes in the forest resources the prospect for sustaining timber output for most products at recent levels is doubtful. Only through immediate and considerable improvements in forest management and by further adjustments in utilization can the forest industry hope to sustain timber production at the levels of recent years."

ANNUITIES

About 172,000 former government employees or their families are receiving monthly annuity checks from the Civil Service Retirement fund. The fund paid out over $172,000,000 during the last fiscal year.

"The Child with the Savings Account Becomes the Thrifty Man"

A savings account is an ideal birthday gift for a boy or girl. It fosters a sense of independence. It provides an incentive for thrift. It enables the child to save for the things he wants—and thus learn, through a small measure of temporary sacrifice,
the relative value of possessions and of goals.
